Congratulations to everyone! We are so excited to have a strong, diverse, and talented ARC Classified Senate.

Also, the Classified Senate had the annual retreat where new senators are trained in the work of the Senate. Deborah Knowles, the 4CS Area Representative for Los Rios Colleges, conducted one of the trainings.

COSUMNES RIVER COLLEGE

Julie Olson, Classified Senate President

Cosumnes River Classified members are knee deep in supporting students, faculty, and management during this unprecedented Fall semester. Currently, Classified leadership is hosting open forms with President Bush along with his executive team. The open forms are only for Classified members and are held every month. It gives the Classified members an opportunity to address any questions they have for the Executive team.

Classified Equity Institute, phase II is currently in the planning stages for a fully online experience, unlike the previous Classified Equity Institute held in January where the campus was closed for all Classified to attend. Phase II of Classified Equity Institute will focus on the We Won't Fall Campaign How to be an Anti-Racist Institution.

Classified leadership is currently exploring different workshops focusing on self-care during these troubling times. And lastly, Classified are busy working on Accreditation.

FOLSOM LAKE COLLEGE

Lindsey Campbell, Classified Senate President

Folsom Lake College virtually welcomed back Dr. Frank Harris on Thursday, October 1st and Friday, October 2nd as a follow up to his Spring Convocation visit. This workshop on Thursday was focused on Classified professionals and the effects of racial microaggressions that occur outside the classroom on belonging and success for students of color. The workshop was well attended by over 60 participants. Thursday, October 8th was the first workshop in a four week mandatory racial equity and anti-racism training for all FLC Classified. The workshop series covers topics such as how to talk about race, the different forms of racism, tips on how to respond to racism, privilege, and intersectionality, with opportunities for open discussion and dialogue throughout. The planning for the training series was a collaborative process including Administration, Student Services, Classified Senate and the Classified Professional Development committee.
