

Classified Senate Reports – August 2025

Folsom Lake College Classified Senate

We have a full senate and are getting more participation by the classified at large now that we are post-COVID.

We also were able to get some really great ideas for better engagement and professional development from the Classified Leadership conference that we attended and have built that into our goals for focus this fiscal year.

We are also working on more creative ways to do fundraising so that we can hold more classified events for team building as well as professional development.

Our largest goal is to create a New Classified Institute with team leaders from different areas of campus and do orientations and training for new classified employees.

Sacramento City College

We are happy to announce a full cabinet for the first time in several years and had a fantastic participation level for our all day Classified Retreat in June and our first meeting in July.

With a large group of incoming senators and officers that are newer to the campus and with little representational governance experience, we organized a successful strategic planning session for the cabinet to develop our goals and vision for the year, lay out groundwork for upcoming professional development functions and help folks understand the role and functions of Classified Senate from a campus, district and statewide perspective. We have a follow up session planned during our Professional Development & Learning Week next week, and are looking forward to working with our sister senates across the district for innovative ideas on outreach and shared goal creation.
